Artist Showcase

Call for Artists:

The Discovery Park of America (DPA) invites artists to submit artwork for the Artist Showcase. The Artist Showcase is an ever changing series of temporary exhibits, each lasting 6 months.

The exhibit can be found on the lower level of Discovery Center, just outside the art hall and near the exit to the park grounds.

The display area is approximately 8' W x 6' h with a permanent sign (approximately 11" X 17") explaining the program to visitors. In addition to the art displayed, each installation includes a temporary sign (approximately 8.5" x 11") with a photo and biographical information for current artist. The permanent sign hangs to the left of the display space. The biographical sign will be hung at the lower right hand corner of each display.

Deadlines for entry are established semi-annually, with displays being changed at the same rate. The DPA Art Committee selects a winner from the various entries, with final approval reserved for the DPA Executive Committee. Artists not selected may choose to have their portfolio automatically reconsidered during the following entry period. Past winners may reenter one year following the removal of their display from the showcase, but cannot include any of the same pieces in their new submission.

Artists must agree to loan to Discovery Park of America the displayed works for a period of no more than 1 year and no less than 8 months. Discovery Park of America will produce an identifying plaque for each piece.

Current display period and submission deadline:

The current display by Sarah Haig, of Martin, TN, will remain in place through June 2018.

A new display will be revealed to the public on or about Friday, July 12, 2018 and will remain on display through December 2018. The deadline for consideration for this display period is 5:00 P.M. Friday, April 27, 2018.

Entry Number & Size:

Artists may submit any number of works so long as the pieces submitted for consideration can be displayed within the exhibit space. Submissions should also include a proposed layout for the display. DPA reserves the right to make alterations to the proposed layout.
